

Bills Pertaining to Narcotics Reviewed by Assemblyman Chape

By CHARLES E. CHAPEL
Assemblyman, 46th District

You are probably aware of the passage of the law increasing penalties for illegal narcotic traffic, and you also know that all bills intended to make it easier for law-enforcement officers to arrest narcotic violators have been bottled up in committees. This is unfortunate because increasing penalties without taking the present legal handcuffs off sheriffs and policemen does not go very far toward solving the problem.

Restoring the rules of evidence for admissibility of evidence in narcotic cases, coupled with the new penalty law represent what might be termed the negative side of the problem, that is, such bills and laws are intended to discourage the illegal narcotic trade and to keep peddlers out of circulation by sending them to prison.

THE POSITIVE side of the problem consists in educating our people against the evils of narcotics and in rehabilitating those who are already addicted. One of the few steps in this direction is Assembly Joint Resolution No. 16 in which the Legislature of the State of California memorializes the President of the United States and the Congress of the United States to establish a hospital of the U.S. Public Health Service in Southern California for treating narcotic addicts. This is urgent because at present there are only two federal hospitals which provide treatment for narcotic addicts. These are at Lexington, Kentucky, and at Fort Worth, Texas.

ASSEMBLY Joint Resolution No. 16 has passed both houses of the Legislature and been sent to Washington, D.C. If you agree that we need a federal hospital to treat narcotic addicts in Southern California, please write to your Congressman and the two U.S. Senators.

Assembly Bill No. 1688, by the Honorable George A. Willson of Huntington Park, adds an act to the Health and Safety Code providing that the Director of Corrections must establish a state narcotic hospital, and provides procedure for commitment to the hospital of persons addicted to the use of
